The American Spirit of Freedom

Americans today prize their freedom above all things; the freedom to say and write what they think, to come and go as they choose, to make their own decisions about their future, to pursue academic freedom, to express themselves as individuals, or just to be by themselves to relax and think. Students at New Palestine value their freedom.

Reading the free press, writing their own newspaper, driving to school in their own cars, choosing their own curriculum and seeking their own personal goals are some examples of student use of freedoms. Escape to a quiet place is a special privilege enjoyed by many in our beautiful area of Hancock County. No young American is truly free until be recognizes his responsibility to others. Knowing how to use freedom and not abuse it will help keep our school and our society free. It has been said "Freedom is like the air we breathe; we don't miss it until it is taken away from us," We celebrate the American Spirit of Freedom.

A. The quiet solitude of Sugar Creek creates the right atmosphere to mediate and gather your thoughts. Like many American waterways, the legendary creek, once the lifestream of many Indian tribes, now is polluted. Man's freedom to do what he wanted with his waste has resulted in the spoiling of the ecology. Now the responsibility of eleaning up the environment is ours.

B. Science is discovery. In the lab a student faces the challenge of learning and probing into the secrets of the universe and motion and matter. Teacher Robert Sherwood observes as Chemistry students Brian Crowder, Gwen Kinnett, David Sellers, and Margie Howzer follow a procedure.

C. Jeff Denton, sensor, stirs a batch of fudge for his class in "Bachelor Living," not an unusual choice for guys at N.P. A good cook must wear a hat to keep his hair out of the eyes and fudge.

D. Our library shelves provide a wide assortment of "free press" reading for Teresa Wilson, Kris Ooley, Cindy McDoogall, Sandy Key, and Jim Clark.

The American Spirit of Frontier

It has long been said that frontiers no longer exist in America. As this is true in terms of land, it does not apply to intangible frontiers. Vast frontiers still remain. From the frontiers opened by graduation to those which are ever present in science, the frontiers in New Palestine are many and varied.

Curriculum at New Palestine is a frontier. Printing, a fairly new course, has the frontier of publishing our school paper, in cooperation with the Journalism class. Science, the mother of frontiers, challenges General Science students with the theory of weights and balances and the resistance of a simple pulley.

Frontiers in education help give meaning and direction to students who are searching for their own frontiers of the future. Whether it be frontiers of science, of art, or of the mind, the challenge of these continues to lure us long after the closing of the geographical frontier.

A. A classic example of the opening of a new frontier is graduation. Last year's class of 1975 listens to their commencement address while their backdrop expresses their theme "The winds of change are blowing."

8. Mr. Gary Starks and C.M. staff members Vivian Keeton, Sandy Key, and Debbie Esarey examine the new printing press. For the first time in the history of the school, the paper will be printed in our own Printing Department.

C. General Science students David Jones, Joey Abbott, and Brian Bussell construct a simple pulley, a basic mechanical machine. From such instruction, future engineers may come.

The American Spirit of Allegiance

Loyalty of citizens to their country as well as student's loyalty to their school is classified as their allegiance. Allegiance cannot be confined only to one's loyalty to his beliefs and ideals. Therefore, a person may pledge allegiance to many causes and concerns, as long as there is no conflict of interests.

Allegiance is displayed at New Palestine by students in the form of cheerleaders giving their support to the many school teams; freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors giving allegiance to their class, and finally, students as citizens, giving their allegiance to their flag and country. Although intangible, allegiance is expressed in concrete terms. From participation in sports and classes to the defense of one's country, allegiance is an important quality in any individual's life. Whether that person be big or small, important or obscure, his allegiance, no matter to what, is always felt.

A. The sophomores display their class loyalty in the Homecoming Parade, Keith Hatcher and John Kennedy lead the way.

B. Cheerleaders Carrie Abrendts, Angle Abrendts, Pam Hobbs, Terri Robinson, and Rhonda Bowen show their devotion to our school mascut, the Dragon, played by Doug Armes.

C. Allegiance to duty is essential for every Avalon staff member. In the Homecoming parade Co-editor Cheryl Heath and staff member Lynne Johnson throw candy to the children from the "Avalon" car, driven by Sandy McGee.

D. "I pledge allegiance to the flag," this pledge spoken by students on Monday mornings expresses our loyalty to our country through its symbol, the American flag. Seniors Terri Adams and David Smith realize that love of country is reflected by more than just the repetition of words, but the true obedience to the laws of this land and the Constitution.

The American Spirit of the Individual

Rilph Waldo Emerson once said "Who so would be a man, must be a non-conformist. This is well expressed today by the variety of methods in which a student may reveal his own uniqueness. Individuality can also be used to further group activities. A strong individual is an asset to any organization.

Students at New Palestine High School have individual interests. Some enjoy music, both instrumental and yo cal. Others prefer the competition against time and skill of an opponent which they find in athletics. One person may devote time to studies, while another enjoys being with friends. Whether activities at school are used as stepping stones to a career or just for personal enjoyment, it helps to develope everyone's personality to benefit those around them. The right to individuality, if it doesn't interfere with the rights of others, is the basis of our Constitution.

B

A, "On Education all our lives depend, and few to that, too few, with Care attend"

Benjamin Fracklin

- B. Phil Schwier, a freshman, discovers the necesuty of working out his own problems, with a little help from a calculator
- C. Many students express themselves through music, like Cindy McDougall who both writes and sings her own compositions.
- D Individual expression often shows stell in our feelings for others. Karen Norris and Jay Pope share thoughts.
- 2. Lari Swegman demonstrated her individuality when she placed fifth in the 440 yard run at the State Finals in the spring of 1975
- J. Colike the make, in the General Science labwho lives colated from human contact in his eage, we as individuals must learn to express our individuality among others.

The American Spirit of Tradition

The spirit of tradition is strong among students at New Palestine. As I evice, the father in "Fiddler on the Roof", the popular play and movie, declares, "Because of our traditions, we've kept our balance for many, many years," "It's a tradition" explains Homecoming, the Prom, class rings, town parades.

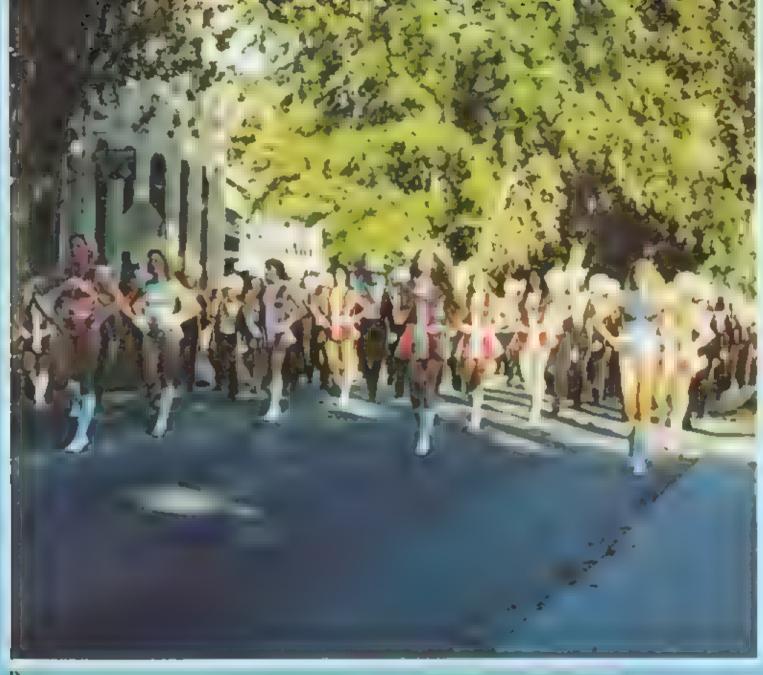

"We've always done it," is just another way of expressing our need for tradition. Our national life is full of traditions; our holidays, religious and civil, give Americans a time of renewal of national customs. Many of the old traditions are changing, causing much concern, but new ways will replace the old ... new traditions.

As this school of more than 700 students grows, many of the old traditions will pass, but the tradition of Dragon Spirit will go on, the pride of a good education and a concerned faculty and student body. Like Tevye, we have come to realize that "Without our traditions, our lives would be as shaky as—a fiddler on the roof."

- A. Joy Minchin, senior, reflects her happiness as she is crowned 1975 Homecoming Queen by Student Body president David Smith, as Don Clark looks on approvingly
- B. The suphomores look forward every year to choosing their class rings. These students Brian Paul, Jeff Gayle, John Westerhaus, Randy Key, Denne Dickins, Cindy Abbott, Kris O'Neill, and Kim Wester help select the class rings for the class of 75
- C. A daily tradition at New Palestine High School is the morning announcements given by Mr. Kelso, principal, Here Mrs. Sanford, school secretury, assists.
- D. There is nothing as American as the local band leading the parado down the hometown's main street.

The American Spirit of Decision

Great decisions have been made by great Americans in the past, but each young person must make important choices every day of their life. The decision of the athlete in the game, the boy for the girl, the color by the artist, the note by the singer, the cut by the craftsman. Life is decisionmaking.

The decision to leave the old country and come to the new world, the decision to break ties with Eugland and form a new republic, the decision to move westward and seek a new frontier—these were the turning points of our nation's history. Viet Nam, Cambodia, civil rights are milestones of American choices.

Important decisions are made by N.P. students. "Shall I do my best in this class... shall I go out for the basketball team... shall I go to college... what friends should I choose. Shall I stay in school? Many of the decisions students make change the course of their lives. Late is decisionmaking

- 4. The many decisions we face in life are symbolized by a Dragon baseball game. The batter must determine if the pitch is good and to swing, the eatcher must decide where to signal the pitcher to place the pitch, and the umpire a not decide how to call the pitch. The outcome of the game depends on the decision.
- B. Decommaking is critical in football and members of the Dragons punder their fate on the field as couches Marvin Shepler, Carv Kummings, Ray Dawson, and Gary Starks discuss the next music
- C The choice of a friend, for a dance or life, is one of the most important decisions young people must make as 1975 Sensor Prom Queen Marcia Price and King Dennis Carriott discover
- D, "Shall I make that brush stroke light green or dark green" muses student artist Mary Hassinger. The beauty of the work depends on her choices
- E. Concert choir members decide what note to sing during a rehearsal for a concert. Too many wrong decisions spoil the total harmony of all
- E. The cutting of a piece of wood with the hand saw is a precision decision by Doug McKinnev and Mike Amett.

The American Spirit of Challenge

John Wooden, the great Hoosier basketball coach of UCLA, once said "Do not let what you cannot do interfere with what you can do," and there lies the challenge of life. Students must learn where their talents can do the most good and their weaknesses the least harm, and try to do their best. Many students accept the challenge to compete by participating in many sports available to them. Various classes and projects open our minds to knowledge and motivate us to learn. Teachers challenge us to think, and coaches challenge us to be victorious, and life challenges us to live it to the fullest "Remember this your lifetime through, Tomorrow, there will be more to do, And failure waits for all who stay With some success made vesterday. Tomorrow, you must try once more And even, harder than before." These lines from John Wooden's "Call Mi Coach' sum up the meaning of challenge

- A Debbie Tucker gives 100% effort to save the ball in a croupal play during collectiall sension an other winning season for a great NP term
- A The challenge for the checkered flag was won this year by the FFA in the push cart face at Homecoming. The winning team was driver Kim Mead, pushers Ron Kirshner, Scott Wilson, Din Clark, and Brian Kottlineski.
- C. To be able to see something valuable and cuneaste as the result of your work is the challenge of mans. Agriculture projects, such as the building of this conclusion.

For the last four years seniors have shared their lives, conquering challenges together. High school life be gan a little shaky as freshmen, especially the knees, gee, those seniors looked big. Thanks to a year of exporience and our shiny new 1976 NPHS class rings, as sophomores we had a sense of bolonging. Our junior year the prom coloured our world with love, leaving the girls the song they would never forget. Seniors at last: we've reached our goal. Now we're looking at life through different eyes: people searching for the fu ture, forever remembering the past

Administration Is concerned

The Administration of the Community School Corporation of Southern Hancock County finds the Equal Rights Amendment, the new Doe Creek Middle School and the rise of vandalism their major concerns. For the first time in the history of CSCSHC a woman, Mrs. Joan Bowen, was elected to the board. In keeping with this public awareness of Equal Rights the five members of the board are trying to comply with sex discrimination legislation. This involves curricular and extra curricular planning.

Doe Creek Middle School has made many changes for N.P.H.S. More classroom and locker space, a greater variety of courses, and less scheduling problems are some of the benefits enjoyed by students.

Vandalism has become an enormous concern, especially for Mr. Kelso and Mr. Long who have to budget the school's finances. The number of breakins and the destruction of property has doubled, along with the job of keeping the school in top working order.

C. The big vellow school busses move students to and from their homes and school safely. Presently around 25 drivers are involved in high school transportation, with shuttle busses leaving the high school early for connection with husses at Due Creek.

D. Our cooks manage to provide good meah and pleasant surroundings for lunch line. Here they display a breentennial theme with desirations and dress. Mrs. Betty Rietmeyer is Food Service Director.

E. Mrs. Evelyn Hanson, School Nurse, has the health of the school population at the center of her program.

F. The bookstore, operated by Mrs. Barbara Coker, is a vital part of school life with a selection of paper supplies, school mods, and current paperbacks.

Conversation On American Education

America's teachers have been attacked by the public for poor teaching methods, lack of discipline, absence of concern, and many other issues. They have been blamed for the recent low scores on College Entrance Exams, and they have been questioned for their recent demands for wages and benefits Following are some conversations on American Education involving New Palestine teachers

WHAT QUALITY IS NEEDED THE MOST IF A STUDENT IS TO SUC-CEED LATER ON IN LIFE

"A student needs a determination to work at a task until he has secceeded, failed, or judged his efforts to be a waste of time, but knowing that he has given the task an honest effort said Larry Collins. "The quality of curiosity and the ambition to pursue it; the ability to try new things without lear of failure, and the recognition of failure and the courage to admit and correct a mistake, commented Mary Ann Judy, Cantance counselor Fred Taylor added, "A sound, fundamentally workable selfimage that would facilitate the individual's ability to work with others."

HOW DO YOU FEEL ABOUT THE ATTACKS IN NEWSPAPERS AND HILLSTSION ON PUBLIC FDI CAHON

English teacher Kathy Morrison stated In many instances, I feel that our crit its are justified. We often fail to pursue the practical or to make learning fun. Rather, because we're often secure in our job, we forget our most important task helping students fearn

ARE TEACHERS UNDERPAID AND OVERWORKED»

"Teaching can be an endless job if the teacher is creative and interested in making classes as captivating as possible. Unfortunately, many teachers do not do this, expressed Mrs. Rebecca Federle. Supporting this viewpoint was David Kochler who said, "Those for whom teaching is just a job make plenty of money for what they do. It is those teachers who make teaching their life who should be paid more."

HOW DO YOU FEEL ABOUT TEACHERS BEING BLAMED FOR STUDENTS NOT LEARNING?

Arnola McCullough, Home Ec. teacher responds, "Grant it, a teacher may not provide the atmosphere or personal interest for teaching; however, if the teacher has given 100% of self, and tests show no learning, then it's possible the student is not giving 100% or does not have the ability in that subject matter

"Robert Sherwood, Science Department Chairman adds, "The majority of the blame must be on the individual students. Teachers may "turn off" a student so much that a student may not learn in that teacher's class though."DO YOU FEEL THAT A HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATION IS REALLY NEEDED TO SUCCEED IN LIFE?

Mrs. Catherine Thompson replied. "Completing high school usually means that a young person has been made aware of other people, both young and old, and has had to live by some rules, and has been exposed to several areas of education (English, Art, Music, etc.) and has had to make choices. Because of this a high school education is necessars ' Math teacher Lowell Hardwick responds "Yes, The general level of communication and propaganda in our society is too subtle for a less trained mind to decipher. Not enough of us are doing what we know we should now; the popular path is broad ..."

Teachers are Concerned

Educational traditions are being questioned today just as the traditional approaches in many other fields. Many teachers are beginning to question compulsary education. The reason many students do not achieve in school is because they are not motivated to learn. This may be the fault of the teacher. but it may also be the fault of the home, the society, and the student. Many young people are so hostile to the educational process that no one can teach them Should we leave them in school and compel them to attend, or should our society provide other alternatives. These and other pertinent questions are being asked by teachers and administrators.

WHAT ADVANCEMENTS DO YOU FELL ARE SELDED IN PUBLIC EDUCATIONS

We need to get students more involved in curriculum planning, and we need to resemb the law that mandates attendance until 16, or we need to provide an alternative school," relates Betty Poindexter, Science teacher and president of the Classroom Teachers Association

DO YOU EFFL THAT SPORTS ARE PLAYED UP TOO MCCH IN THGH SCHOOL?

"Positively, No!, One should support the other. I believe the nature of a na tion's sports program reflects, to a large degree, the nations' physical well being and its physical interests. . . . I believe a young person works, in competitive athletics, for the attainment of personal and social values, knowing that these can be attained only when maximum effort is extended and when there are great sacrifices for the best possible performance. These values may well be carried over to the clawroom and emphasized within the class structure," said Marvin Shepler, Chairman of Social Studies Department and coach

WHAT ARE SCHOOLS FOR?

"At the beginning of our system of govemment, it was made evident that if a democracy was to work the citizenry would have to be educated. A government of and by an ignorant people would not survive. In America today, we still must educate for citizenship. We must teach our children the principle of a free enterprise system, respect for life and tolerance for different kinds of people, practical skills, basic knowledge, and creative endeavor. We must enforce the values of honesty, brotherhood, self respect and moral integrity," declared Wilma Taylor, Chairman of the English Department and Avalon Sponsor.

In the Fourth Annual Gallup Poll of Public Attitudes Toward Education, published in Phi Delta Kappan more than 1500 Americans were asked what they thought the major problems in American Education were. The following list was compiled from that survey:

- 1. Lack of discipline
- 2. Lack of proper financial support
- 3. Integration-segregation problems
- 4. Difficulty of getting "good teachers"
  - 5. Large school, too large classes

Students learn Valuable skills

Helping students to choose a job in a vocational area, and teaching skills which will be valuable throughout their lives were two important goals the Vocational Arts Department, which in cluded the Home Economics, Industrial Arts, and Agriculture programs, wished to achieve. A new development in the department was the expansion of the Home Economics program to ten one-semester classes, instead of Home Economics I, II, III, and IV. All classes were offered to boys.

A Printing many types of publications for school and other community organizations, the Print Shop has a very busy program Jeff Davidson learns to set type in his Printing Class.

B. Joe McCoy and Jeff McAllister adjust the timing of a lawiimower in their Power Mechanics Class.

C. Learning correct and safe ways to me fertilizer in their Agriculture II Class are David Merlan. Jeff Hunter, Rick Barnes, and Phil Morris

D. With food prices spiraling, it is important for everyone to be able to create economical and tasty meah, as Wayne Polls, Steve Raidle, Bryan Gregg, and Kevin Carter discover in their Begin ning Foods Class.

E. Karen Pool measures material for drapes as Brenda Tucker, Jamie Nicholas, and Cathy Bowen discuss swatches of material in Housing Class

Classes build Body and soul

"Individualized" and Diversified" were key words to describe two small departments in our school. P.E. teachers had more time to give help and individual attention to students because Doe Creek opened. "Diversified" was the only proper word to describe the art program. Ceramics, Pamting, Crafts, and Art I were taught by Mr. Elett, our new art teacher.

- A. Julie Mattingly makes an energetic attempt at a straddle vault on the horse
- B. Putting the final touches on the landscape for his painting class is Shawn Day.
- C. Terri McDaniel "throws a pot" on the Art Department's new potter's wheel
- D. Fred Duncan and Juergen Riecknoff carefully put up the nets for a volleyball game in their P.F. Class.

Formulas plot Future skills

Individualized study was the core of the Math and Science Departments. In class groups were formed in Geometry to help students help themselves. Mr. Lowell Hardwick commented "This is one of the most important things that we are doing." Chemistry I and II students received individualized study manuals, called modules, and worked at their own pace. Purchased by the Science Department was a spectrophotometer which measured the intensity of light through a sample comparison. New innovations and individualized study became a way of life at N.P.H.S.

A. Mr. Lowell Hardwick provides Fred Peterson with the insight needed to help solve a geometry pison.

B. Jan Conn. Kelly Bowen. Varient Price and Bill Avery work in an individualized study group in Plane Country, class.

C. Studying the reaction rate of one solution versus unother are Mike Ford and Bruce Draper in a Chemistry. If project

D. Builogy assistant Mark Ferraro and Tami Fresconduct a biology experiment while Diane Newkirk and Laureene Van Rosendale observe Expansion has occurred in both the Social Studies and Business Departments at New Palestine. Bicentennial projects have added interest in many history classes as well as emphasis on current events. Expanding to two rooms, the Intensive Lab area has a more office-like atmosphere. Girls in Lab worked in offices in the Corporation for two hours each day to gain actual experience.

3. Janet Pottoroff improves her business skills

B. Today's war may take place in a country you never heard of before, so map study is an important part of Social Studies classes as Tony Tucher and Joe Lynam discover

C. Randy Key works at improving his typing speed and accuracy

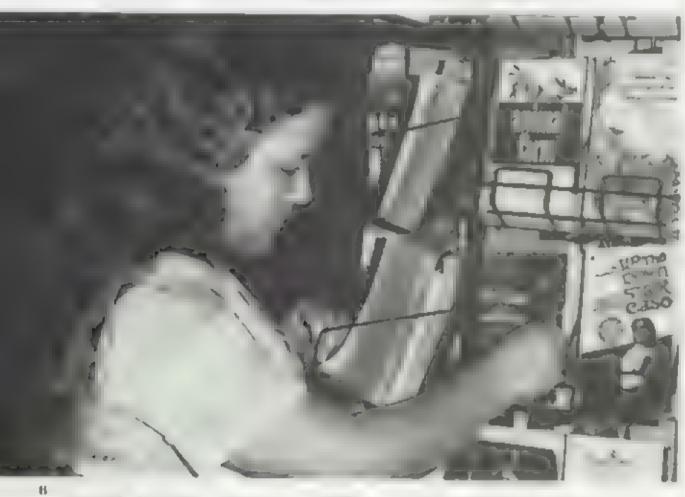

D. Secretarial skills are valuable assets to Mary Havsenger in her post graduate plans.

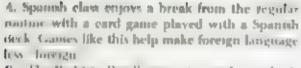

E. There is so much to learn about the world we live in, the sun, the moon, the universe... the history of man. Students in U.S. History classes regularly read Time Magazine and Laterary Supplement ī

Language is key to life

Language brings meaning and purpose to life as it permits human beings to communicate with one another. Whether it be French or Spanish or our own Mother Tongue English, language brings people closer together and makes it possible for people to write their thoughts, read for enjoyment or information, and record his tory for the generations to come. Finglish and Foreign Language Departments work to involve students in an appreciation of their languages.

B. The Right to Read' is a nationwide emphasis on the teaching of reading. Donna Halsell looks through the paperback selection in the library as she empos her right to read. The English Department stresses the importance of having it wide ringe of reading interests.

C Presbuich are introduced to Shakespeare with Romeo and Juhet", Marie Miller and Dause Casetter have made Shakespearean masks for a nemeet

D. French class is entertained by Billie and Jackie Kirkwood, who are participating in a play which helps with French language skills.

B.E.R. R. VOCATIONAL CENTER JULIUNG TRADES HOUSE PROJECT

Students train for future

How would you like to build a house? That is exactly what the boys in the Building Trades class at Blue River Vocational Technical Center are doing. A first year program, it has proved effective in teaching carpentry.

Cosmotology, Office Education, Deisel and Auto Mechanics, and Distributive Education are some other courses offered. The students receive experience and skill in the field they have chosen for post-graduate careers. Approximately 50 juniors and seniors from New Palestine attend the center where the main emphasis is to learn by doing.

A. At the building site, John Mattingly, Jeff Frey, Tim Hubbard, Ellis Denton and Jerry Edwards rest before going back to work.

B. Sanding down a car to paint is not easy, as Kevin Miller, Brian Scott, Dan Grinstead, Larry Fox, Lee Pope and Don Crook bave found while taking Auto Body Repair

Music is food For the soul

Singing for the enjoyment of others was the main motivation behind the NP Vocal Department. With smiles and enthusiasm, the Crimsonaires, Madrigals, and Concert Choir sang at such places as The Indianapolis Circle, Castleton Square, and at special holi day programs at school. Participating in district and state contests was also part of what kept these hard-working individuals on the go. Dragon singers proved to all who heard them that "music is food for the soul".

FFA—A future For America

"To practice brotherhood, bonor rural opportunities and responsibilities, and develop those qualities of leadership which a future farmer should possess" was the goal of the NP
Chapter of the Future Farmers of America.
Our FFA practiced brotherhood by contributing to the American Cancer Society Supporting a young and adult farmers class gave this active club a chance to reach out into the community. Parliamentary procedure, speech, livestock, soil, and crop contests provided development in leadership and citizenship.

FHA expands To help others

Making tray favors and visiting residents of the Twinbrook Nursing Home was FHA's impact project. For their state project, a Halloween party for community children was given. Ecology was the theme of the bicept project, with members getting together to help clean up the town by picking up trash along the road. Awards were given to outstanding seniors and underclassmen. In February, a style show was presented to all seniors and juniors showing formal and informal wear.

Spring Art Fair Exhibits talents

"Art Club can be whatever the students want it to be ...." With help from their new sponsor, Mr. Tom Elett, Art Club members had a chance to try out new ways of self-expression. Two days each week Mr. Elett came in early and stayed late so that members could have access to all the new equipment in the art department.

Faith, Health fulfill life

"Because I enjoy helping others who cannot help themselves," was the reason Health Careers President Karen Norris gave for making a health career her career. During the year the club heard speakers from the Juvenile Center, American Cancer Association, and Indiana Health Careers Association. While Health Careers was involved with physical well-being, One Way was concerned with spiritual well-being. Organizing a Christmas Convocation in cooperation with the Music Department was a major accomplishment for them this year.

Several speakers came to One Way meetings to share experiences in the Christian life. Students learn that both faith and health are needed for a happy life.

Sunshine Girls Glow and grow

It's a big club! The Sunshine Society this year initiated seventy freshman girls. Initiates were presented with a rose by their "big sisters" and candles were lit, each to symbolize a duty for the members of the organization. Mrs. Joanne Bowen, the first female School Board member and one of the many ladies picked by an individual Sunshine girl to be her Ideal Lady, was the speaker for initiation The girls honor their Ideal Ladies in the spring with a tea. 555 is basically a service or ganization. Members made favors for teachers, took up collections for Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets, and sent cards to the facufty on special occasions. Sunshine glows with service and grows in membership,

Athletes, girls Lead spirit

"The spirit motivators . . . the center of the school spirit." In the words of Mrs. Davis, the Pep Block sponsor, this was what all the members of her club should have been. Together the girls of Pep Block and the athletes of Lettermen had the power to either kindle the flame of school spirit or blow it out. Pep Block assisted the yell leaders in cheering at games and sold candy to pay for basketball tickets. Lettermen were athletes earning Varsity letters. This year members of this club were escorts for Spirit and Homecoming Queen Candidates. Lettermen also sponsored a Punt, Pass, and Kick Contest for kids from eight to thirteen.

UNDERCLASSMEN

JUNIORS

Enthusiasm was the key for the Juniors. Class members volunteered hard work in concession stands during Varsity football and basketball games selling cokes to fund the Junior-Senior Prom. Additional money for the cause was made by selling magazine subscriptions. The prom, held May 1st, had responsibilities shared not only by the Juniors but also the class sponsors, Mr. Fleming, Mr. Sherwood, and Mr. Elett. These men provided leadership for both the concessions and the prom planning.

Two steps up, One step down

Our sophomore year is when we begin to shape the social values in our lives. Becoming more aware of situations around us, we develop concerns in the events of the world. We begin to contribute to society by making important choices about our courses and directions. In this year we choose not only our class ring but the path to our future.

Freshmen

New horizons open up to last year's 5th graders as they return to New Palestine. High School as freshmen. Not being divided up into sections as in Jr. High they are able to select their own classes and organizational clubs and take on a sense of individuality.

Especially proud of themselves for warrang the colfin contest during the Homecoming this year, they have had a great beginning and hope to keep up the success during their years at New Latesting High School, Spirit and enthusium are the signs of the freshman class,

School prints Own paper

An offset printing press has made it possible for the school to print as well as publish their own newspaper. For many years the Crimson Messenger has been printed by mimeograph or sent off to a printer. However, this has not made things simpler. "We thought it would be easier... well we imagined wrong. We have a lot more work to do," said Journalism student Sandy Key. The C.M. staff members are all experienced All have had one year of journalism Journalism I learns the basic skills of newspaper writing while Journalism II publishes the paper Fach student on the C.M. staff rotates staff positions with other students.

The American Spirit of '76 is Avalon theme

"Work" was not an unfamiliar word to any member of the Avalon staff. Before the school year, twenty ad sales persons helped make money for the expensive task of putting out a good year-book. Section editors worked on individual parts of the Avalon directed by the Editors-in-Chief. Forty-three book sales staff members "pushed" Avalons during a week long sales campaign successfully selling to 74% of the students. Ever present to guide the Avalon staff was the sponsor, Mrs. Wilma Taylor. These hard working seniors were the buckbone of the yearbook.

Students learn Leadership

Lighting the torch of Honor Society, the spirits of scholarship, leadership, ser vice, and character initiated the new members of this organization. Candidates must have maintained a B average in order to have entered and remained in this organization. Honor Society also assigned members to tutor students at Doe Creek Middle School

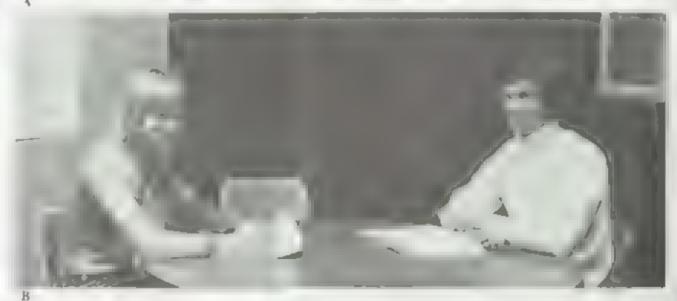

Democracy is not easy. Student Council, the acting student government, found this out when they discussed changing the manner in which Homecoming Queens were chosen. Organizing Homecoming and Spirit Week was a major duty for them this year.

A At the head of the Student Cosneil are the student body president and vice-president. David Smith, student hody president, and Scott Wilsonstudent body vice-president, have led this year's Student Council.

God and service "natural highs"

"It was a good way for a young athlete to experience the joy, love, and fellowship of a Christian atmosphere." Bryan Turner, vice-president of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes at New Palestine, described his experiences at the FCA camp located at Turkey Run Park in Indiana. FCA held bible study groups and went on hiking and bike trips. Larry Collins was the new sponsor of FCA.

Students were often involved in clubs which were not directly associated with school. Key Club, a community service organization, was such a club sponsored by Mr. Lowell Hardwick. The club kept passers by posted on school events by an activities sign outside the high school. During the year they collected can goods for Santa's Helpers and organized a Radiothon on WSMJ, Greenfield.

Troupe stages Group effort

The New Palestine Chapter of the International Thespian Society is an orgamzation devoted to the performing arts. However, the plays produced every year would not be successful if everyone wanted to be on center stage. The Bicentennial production Sing, America, Sing was a good example Mrs. Rebecca Federle, sponsor, directed the actors and Mr. Robert Blacketer sponsor, directed music and work backstage on sets and lights, setting the mood for the whole production. While the actors and crew members were busy at their work, student seamstresses were work ing on authentic looking costumes. Because of the variety of jobs connected with putting on a play, a group effort is needed.

Track rebuilds; Cross country, Plans ahead

Girl's track had one individual, Lori Swegman who placed 5th in the Indiana State Track Meet. Not losing a meet until she reached the regionals, Lori is expected to do very well in her upcoming junior season. The varsity cross country had a 6 and 5 wm loss record. Coach Steve Rash stated, "We were a fairly young team with only one senior. We also had injuries plague us most of the year. We should have a strong team coming back next year." Boys track was disappointing this year. However, better things can be expected next year. "We have many fine young people returning," state Coach Joe Spegal.

Baseball wins; Breaks .600

New Palestine's Baseball season was very successful. They finished with a 15 and 10 win-loss record. "We used under-classmen for the summer, and I felt they responded to the pressure very well," stated Coach Marvin Shepler. Pitchers John Bryan and Kevin Stevens carried most of the load. Frank Giles was the leading hitter with a A44 batting average.

Tennis Steady; Golf expands

Boy's Tennis finished with a 5 and 8 win-loss record and is expected to be a strong team next year with 8 returning lettermen. "Considering the fact that we were playing mexperienced boys, I feel that we did quite well," stated Coach Collins, Janet Voiles's Girl's Tennis team lost only one match all season. We have three strong lettermen returning. Hendryx, Trout, and Neilan will return to slaughter opponents next year. Golf improved greatly over last year.

Dragons start slow, finish well

A promise of a good season opened the 1975 Varsity football schedule with 44-0 romp over I dinburg. Alas, to the football coache's consternation, our lighting. Dragons then proceeded to drop five straight games, three of which were conference opponents. Coach Shepler attributed his team's slow start to the fact that we had many young players. After the fifth loss the fire returned to the Dragons who then won three of the last four games. Semor players, in Coach Shepler's opinion, displayed tremendous leadership and helped to turn the season around. In the words of Coach Shepler: The record wasn't a winning one but the attitude and effort reflected by this team was certainly a winning one to be proud of."

Having a little better success in their season, toushing with five wins and only two losses, reserve football was highlighted by the outstanding performance of the defensive squad which allowed their opponents only one touch down from the ground.

Girl's Volleyball Serves victory

Girl's Volleyball, in its third year at New Palestine, continued to have a winning season. Although last year's team had a better record at 8-2, this year's record of 7-3 was the result of tougher opponents. The season started off well with five straight victories; however, a perfect season was not to be, as the girls then lost three consecutive games. A major victory for the volleyball girls came as they achieved second place in the conference. In the opinion of Coach Janet Voiles, New Palestine had an experienced team with great individual skill. A high point for the team was the undefeated season of the reserve girls. With potential displayed by the reserve team, we at New Palestine can expect great things in the future.

Grapplers have Champ season

Dragon wrestling for 1975-76 has for the seventh straight year succeeded in gaining a winning season. This year's Varsity squad consisted of four seniors, eight juniors, and two sophomores. Overall performance was, as usual, very good. Outstanding individual performance was given by all four seniors, one junior, and both sophomores, each of whom was a champion in their respective weight class at the Big Blue River Conference Tourney, Dragon grapplers blitzed their opponents so completely that the nearest contender was seventy points behind, resulting inthe final total for NP at 166 points.

DRAGONS

Dragon fire is more than just a noun phrase painted on a spirit poster with red paint. Dragon fire is the spirit of all who participate in the sports program of New Palestine High School-student, faculty member or administrator, who give of themselves physically, spiritually, and mentally in competition. To bear the Dragon title means to carry the hopes of the entire student body into battle. For members of the student body it is easy to be a Dragon supporter when your team is winning. With what pride does the Dragon fan stand and vell "We're the Dragons"! What happens when the team is losing? Fans stav home; fans complain; spirit is gone. But the team members and coaches, they must fight on. Sometimes it is lonely to be a Dragon. Sometimes the only ones still there rooting the team on are the cheerleaders, the great Dragon Band, parents, and a few faithful friends. What about those teams who compete without crowds, the track, tennis, golf, cross country teams, and many times, the baseball team? They are Dragons too; they fight just as hard and care just as much. Dragon fire! Keep it burning. Don't let anyone tell you that there are no such things as dragons. At N.P. they are alive and well and ready for battle.

NEW PALESTINE GEM BRANCH

861-4435 894-8550 If you've ever enjoyed the wonderful feeling of having a good neighbor hen you know how we feel about our good friends in Hancock County After all, we've been here for a long time . . . since 1887, and watching families grow up and enjoy the blessings of rural life is an everyday joy for all of us at New Patestine Bank.

Being a small bank, in the shadow of the big city, we sometimes wonder if everyone knows that New Paiestine Bank has all the services and conveniences of the big fellow, white knowing overvithing on a person-to-person basis... We we taken the country and of banking white leaving the bank in the country, where the good life still abounds. So in your coming and going, and in the course of your growing, remember, wherever you are we're your neighbor!
